

"THE REPORTER"

Devoted to the Interests of Pupils and Patrons of the Strassberger Conservatories of Music.

Published in September, December and June.

J. W. Sneed.....Editor

INTRODUCTORY

The aim of these Conservatories are, and always have been, to instill in pupils a thirst for knowledge, an inclination for conscientious, thorough work, and by so doing to build up a broad musical education in the fullest sense of the term, not merely a superficial knowledge in any one branch. The success which has crowned its efforts is sufficient evidence that its standard of excellence has been fully maintained, and its achievements duly appreciated by the earnest student.

The methods employed will warrant the most careful consideration, and special attention is called to the advantage to be derived from the system here pursued, bringing to the pupils the direct influence of a thoroughly competent faculty and surrounding them with that musical atmosphere so essential to rapid and successful progress.

HARMONY CLASSES

New harmony classes will be arranged in the latter part of October to commence the first week in November.

INSTRUCTIONS AT THE HOME OF PUPILS

Lessons given to pupils at their Home—arrangements may be made at the Conservatories offices at reasonable rates. Such pupils are enrolled on the books of the Conservatories and will be entitled to all its privileges.

LOCATION OF CONSERVATORY BUILDINGS

THE NORTH SIDE CONSERVATORY

The patronage of an esteemed public has been highly appreciated in the past, and a continuance thereof is hereby respectfully solicited; entire satisfaction is guaranteed.

The Northside Conservatory is admirably located at the southwest corner of Twenty-second and St. Louis Avenue and is accessible by the Cherokee and Eighteenth street car lines either way (the latter passes the Union Station), all other lines transfer to these lines.

THE SOUTH SIDE CONSERVATORY

is beautifully situated at the southeast corner of Grand and Shenandoah Avenues, viz.: Compton Heights, and is easily reached by the Grand Avenue, Fourth Street and Compton Heights street car lines, which passes the Conservatory both ways; the latter passes the Union Station. Other lines transfer to these lines.

FREE ADVANTAGES

The Strassberger Conservatories offer more free advantages to their pupils and patrons than any other Music School in the west. These are of great value to students in completing their general musical education in the midst of a real musical atmosphere.

PUPILS' PRIVATE RECITALS—Are under charge of Madame C. Strassberger, Bruno Strassberger or G. Winter. They take place every week at the North or South-Side Conservatory, beginning in November. At these recitals pupils will play only for each other and help them to overcome the natural nervousness in playing before an audience. Parents and friends may be invited.

FACULTY AND ARTISTS' RECITALS—Artists' recitals and concerts are frequently given at the Conservatories halls during the season. These recitals are considered essential to good students in cultivating the taste for better music and in familiarizing them with the works of great masters. To these functions extra invitations are issued.

PUPILS' POPULAR RECITALS—Advanced pupils' recitals, under charge of Mr. C. Strassberger, are given 3-4 every month, to which all students, their parents and friends, are invited.

LECTURES ON HISTORY OF MUSIC—Lectures will be given frequently at the Conservatories by such experienced artists as G. Sheets, C. Galloway, etc., on subjects of old masters, and others in which full analysis of music in its development from ancient times to the present day will be shown.

LECTURES ON VOCAL MUSIC and composers will be given by Mme. Lemaire, the eminent vocal teacher. All these lectures will be found very instructive and interesting to students and their friends.

ELEMENTARY HARMONY CLASSES—This course of study comprises: The Rudiments of Music; Musical Notation, as scales, rhythm, signatures, chords, progressions, key relationships, harmonizing melodies, etc. These classes are very important to students who desire to receive a thorough musical education. This course is free of charge to students.

ENSEMBLE SINGING AND EAR TRAINING CLASS—These classes are of great value and special care is taken to show the relationship of the different tones of the scales, correct phrasing, breathing, articulation, style and expression of melodies, etc. These classes are in charge of the great Mme. Lemaire.

VIOLIN CLASSES—These classes are a conspicuous feature in a violin department and an important adjunct of a thorough musical education. They are divided into the junior and senior class, quartets and quintets, etc., under the supervision of Bruno Strassberger, who directs all the study of the most important works of classical and modern masters. Mme. B. Strassberger assists at the piano.

FREE AND PARTIAL SCHOLARSHIPS—The Strassberger Conservatories will award Free and Partial Scholarships to talented music students of small means, to give such an opportunity to study music correctly and thoroughly.

TWENTY FREE SCHOLARSHIPS—Entitling the holder to instruction free of charge, for one school year. Students of rare talent and intelligence will be eligible to such scholarships after they have made a satisfactory examination.

FIFTY PARTIAL SCHOLARSHIPS—Entitling the holder to a liberal reduction from the regular rates for one school year.

This idea (first introduced in St. Louis by Director C. Strassberger), is entirely philanthropic, and no one who is able to pay the regular rates should apply for such a scholarship.

These scholarships are issued in the Vocal, Piano, Dramatic Art and Violin Departments, also in the Elementary Harmony, Violin, Orchestra and Vocal classes.

Application must be made on the regular Conservatories blank before September 10, of each year.

No charge will be made for examinations.

All scholarships are awarded by examination, which will be conducted at the Conservatories, from September 15, to September 30, each year. Candidates will be notified in due time when to appear at the Conservatories.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE RECITALS

A special feature is made of the public and private recitals at these Conservatories, last season some fifty of these recitals being given at the North and South Side Conservatories. The benefit of these recitals cannot be overestimated, they accustom the student to public appearances, and overcome nervousness and timidity, giving an assurance and confidence not to be obtained by any other method.

COMPOSITION AND COUNTERPOINT CLASS

Applications for new Counterpoint and Composition class will be received after September 2nd. (Ch. Galloway in charge.)

SCHOOL OF ORATORY AND DRAMATIC ART

GRADUATING EXERCISES of the Strassberger Conservatories Class of 1910

Olympic Theatre, June 12th 1910,

AFTERNOON AND EVENING

GRADUATES THE LARGEST CLASS IN ITS HISTORY

Fifty-Eight Graduates Received Awards

The general graduating exercises took place at the Olympic Theater before two immense audiences, both afternoon and evening. The theater, the largest in the city, could not accommodate the numbers attending and the management was compelled to turn many away.

Both programs were of the highest artistic excellence, and the participants were all forced to respond to numerous encores and bow repeated acknowledgments to long and enthusiastic applause.

The pupils revealed the superior schooling and methods of the Conservatories, the scholarly and artistic interpretations of the various numbers being especially commendable, excelling that of any previous year.

They also exhibited remarkable praise and assurance, resulting from the advantages the pupils receive from the hundreds of public and private recitals given by the Conservatories during each year.

The orchestra pit was filled to overflowing with hundreds of bouquets of beautiful flowers and many valuable presents, which were presented to the graduates at the close of their numbers.

A selected string quintet, consisting of Sig. Guido Parisi (violin), Elmore Condon (violin), Louis Kielsmeyer (viola), P. G. Anton (violin-cello), Otto Ostendorf (contra-basso), C. W. Kern (organist), Prof. Felix Heink and Prof. Sam'l Bollinger (piano accompanists), ably supported the piano concertos, quartets, etc., which greatly enhanced the effect of these difficult compositions.

Great credit comes due to the instructors of the various graduates. Prof. Charles Galloway, Richard Poppen, C. W. Kern (Theoretical Department), Felix Heink and Sam'l Bollinger (Piano Department), Mme. E. Dussuchal (Public School Music Department), Mme. G. Sheets de Lauzainghein (Oratory and Dramatic Art Department), Mme. A. Lemaire (Vocal Department), Sig. Guido Parisi (Violin Department), for their conscientious and faithful work demonstrated by their respective pupils.

At the conclusion of the musical programme Director Strassberger introduced Prof. H. W. Becker, A. M., who made a few very appropriate remarks regarding the great success of the Conservatories, graduates and especially the teachers, and thanked the immense, large audience for the great interest they took in the programmes. Director C. Strassberger then presented the awards to the various graduates.

Kindergarten Methods.

The Kindergarten will be under the supervision of Miss Eugenie Dussuchal, Supervisor of Music in the St. Louis public schools.

The most practical Kindergarten methods will be used.

Miss Dussuchal's great and successful career as teacher in the schools is the safest guarantee that the method used will be such as to insure the solid and practical foundation that all music students should have.

Prominent Acquisition

Season 1910-11.

Herr Geo. Buddcus, the most distinguished piano virtuoso and successful instructor, has been re-engaged by the Strassberger Conservatories. A limited class of piano pupils will be accepted to commence about September 1st, 1910. Prof. Geo. Buddcus was connected with the Strassberger Conservatories already twelve years ago, but since was honored with a call by Frank Dammrosch, director of the Institute of Musical Art, New York, as an instructor of piano for this institution and part of the time has made several successful concert tours in Europe and this country. He was born in Thuringen as the son of a prominent clergyman, studied first medicine, then entered the Royal Conservatory in Leipzig; after six years there went to Munich and studied two years with Prof. Schwartz, thence a three years' concert tour followed as soloist and accompanist with the eminent Alice Barbi, Franz Maebauer, Toricelli and others, from 1893 to 1896 became the director of the Schwanker Conservatory in Berlin. In 1896 he made an immense success at the concert with the Philharmonic Orchestra in Berlin, playing the Rubinstein and Schuette concertos. In 1897 he came to St. Louis, filling an engagement as piano soloist with the St. Louis Choral Symphony Society and Orchestra with an immense success. At the same time he was secured by Director Strassberger as teacher of piano. In 1904 he accepted the responsible position as head of the Piano Department at the Christian College, Columbus, Mo. He also has filled a great many engagements as soloist at the great St. Louis World's Fair. In 1905-06 he made another successful concert tour in Germany. In 1907-1909 he was engaged as instructor of piano with the Frank Dammrosch Institute of Musical Art, New York. From November, 1909, he again went on a concert tour in Germany and after this returned to St. Louis, where he is now secured again at the Strassberger Conservatories.

Following are some items, of the many, from the papers and critics:

Berlin Vorische Zeitung, Oct. 13th, 1905.—Herr. Georg Buddcus showed in the happiest way his important individuality which was apparent in all his interpretations of pieces of the most different style, a strong temperament controlled by a firm rythmical feeling and a tender, capricious grace, Berliner Zeit am Mittag, Oct. 19th, 1905.—Georg Buddcus is a pianist of great power and temperament. Sudden changes in mood, great contrasts between passion and moonlight poeic make his playing extremely interesting.

Münchener Neueste Naehrchten, Oct. 17th, 1905.—That he is not merely a great technieian, Herr Buddcus showed at once in his excellent interpretation of Schumann's Papillons, where he reached a high standard that he held through all the following offerings of the evening.

Neue Zeitschrift für Music, Leipzig, Oct. 18th, 1905.—In Herr Buddcus I found a most excellent pianist who also as an artistic individuality is far above the average.

ORATORY AND DRAMATIC ART DEPARTMENT.

The Oratory and Dramatic Art Department, under the direction of Mme. G. Sheets de Lauzanghein, the well-known Supervisor of the Department, had its most successful year, the classes being large and enthusiastic. For the first time in the history of the department an admission was charged for the plays given, proving a distinct success, the audiences being large and appreciative. This feature will be continued the coming season.

The department will be enlarged for the coming year—a broader course of study being arranged for those desiring the higher professional diplomas.

Miss Mary E. Bateman has been secured as assistant teacher in the Oratory and Dramatic Art Department and special teacher in English and Literature. Miss Bateman is a college graduate and graduate of the class of June, 1909 of this department. She comes most highly recommended. She has had four years' experience as teacher of English Literature, one year at Bishop Robertson Hall, St. Louis. Her study of literature has been broad and thorough, as her testimonials show. She will prove a valuable acquisition to the department.

Miss Gertrude Dallas (Kirksey), a graduate of the Oratory and Dramatic Art Department, 1907, has been playing the past season in New York as co-star with Isabel Irving in "The Commanding Officer," under Frohman management.

Mme. Helen McLemore, the great concert singer and producer of tone, has won an enviable reputation as a vocal teacher of the highest rank. She has received a remarkable education throughout, is a good pianist, and a lady of refinement.

She has studied for years under Frau Aurlia Jeager, of New York, who used to call her "the great wonder," and took personally special interest in her own account of her rare talent. After many years' great experience here, Mme. McLemore went to Mme. Rudolph Ganz, of Berlin. At once she was received in the highest branches and by her stay here of several years and through the immense progress achieved, she has received the most flattering offers, and while appearing in concerts in New York. Herr Heinrich Conried, after hearing her sing, offered her one of the best positions to sing in opera, but as she had decided rather to devote her talent to church and concert singing and teaching than to opera work, she declined the offer.

The critics and press have been unanimous in praise of Mme. McLemore's well educated and beautiful voice, which shows wonderful versatility in style, at the same time her voice being rich, clear and full, having great dramatic power and yet capable of the most delicate flexibility, and as a teacher Mrs. McLemore has achieved great success with her pupils and work. Many of them are holding positions as concert and church singers and some do well as teachers. Mme. McLemore has been secured by the Strassberger Conservatories as teacher of the Vocal Department to teach and train pupils thoroughly and systematically from the very beginning to the highest artistic development.

Special classes will be formed for ear training and sight reading, which will lead into operatic work—free of charge for pupils who take lessons of her (Mrs. McLemore).

Miss Mary E. Bateman, graduate of 1909, had a most successful year, teaching large classes at Clovis, N. M., and Newport, Ark

Miss Ella Mertens and a number of the graduates report good classes and much interest in their chosen work.
